2. Other Supplemental Readings assigned in class.

GENERAL:

GOALS: Families in Global Perspective (hereafter FGP) raises questions about the causes and consequences of variations in family patterns among the societies around the world. This course will use historical, theoretical, and comparative perspectives to better understand the diverse and changing nature of family life in the United States and other parts of the world. We will only occasionally touch on domestic life in the USA.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES: Students should be able to: (a) demonstrate knowledge of family life in other areas of the world in a comparative context: (b) inquire independently and write about issues in family life around the world (e.g., Globalization, Female circumcisions); and (c) understand the economic structure in societies (i.e. healthcare, welfare).

INTERDISCIPLINARY NATURE OF THE COURSE: FGP brings together materials from several disciplines. Descriptions and typologies of family life come from anthropology, history, demography, and sociology. Theories include structural-functional theory from anthropology and sociology; human sociobiology, which is grounded in biological evolutionary theory; and conflict theories from sociology-including some marxism and feminism. While we know quite a bit about the ways in which families vary around the world, there is debate among the diverse perspectives in trying to explain these patterns of family life.

Course Outline

Exams: This course will include two exams each worth 100 points. The exams will cover lecture notes, chapter readings, and supplemental readings. Exams will be take-home. Students are required to work independently without coping or plagiarizing others work or opinions. Exams are due on the due date and are deducted one letter grade per day it is late. Students that require special assistance on the exam must take care of arrangements the first two weeks of class. All examinations will be essay and must be typewritten or word-processed double-spaced, and in standard 12 point fonts (times new roman, arial).

Sociological debate requirements: Students must participate in a Sociological debate addressing issues discussed in the global families' course. The debating assignment will be issued the first day of class and assignments will be issued the first two weeks of class. If you are not present to receive your topic, it is your responsibility to have a topic assignment no later than January 29, 2010. This will be a group project and students will utilize class time for preparation of their debates. Each student is responsible for independent research related to their topics. Each student must also complete a position paper on their topics (see handout). The debate projects must be completed by March 1, 2010. This project is worth 100pts 50% for debate and 50% for a position paper. For additional information see (Debate Assignment grading procedures and requirements issued Day 1 of class).

Debate Topics:

Is Globalization a Positive Trend for Family Life?

Do Sexually Egalitarian Societies Exist?

Should Sociologists and Anthropologists Work to Eliminate the Practice of Female Circumcision?

Is immigration a Problem in Developed Nations?

Are Arranged Marriages a Good Tradition? Should we Accept Alternatives to Monogamous, Heterosexual Marriage?

Should Divorces be Difficult to Obtain (as they are many other societies)?

Should spanking a child be illegal (as it is in many countries)?

Interview

Each student must conduct an in-depth interview with someone from another country, and write a report based on the interview. The Interview assignment will be issued day one of class. The interview plan is due April 2nd and the assignment is due April 23rd, 2010. This assignment includes an interview with someone willing to tell you about their family life and a 3-5 page write up (see assignment sheet). Late papers will be deducted one letter grade per day it is late. This assignment is worth 100pts.

Grading

Grades will be based on points accumulated on two exams, one interview, written and verbal debate, and attendance.

		Grading Scale:
Assignments		450-500 = A
2 exams	100 pts each	400-449 = B
1 debate	100 pts	350-399 = C
1 interview	100pts	300-349 = D
Attendance /quiz	100pts	299- below= F

Attendance Policy: You should attend class regularly. Moreover, you are responsible for finding out about information you missed in lectures, announcements, and updates on assignments, etc, even if you have excused absences. Attendance will be taken in the form of in class activities or through class roster. Class attendance is worth 50pts of your total grade. Quizzes are worth 50pths. No makeup. Strive to be on time for each class. Entering late is rude and disruptive, as are noises from cell phones and iPods. Turn them off before entering the classroom. If attendance drops off, pop quizzes will be given.

Cheating Policy: The Department of Sociology strongly recognizes the honor policy held with in the university. Students will receive a grade of zero (0) on plagiarized or copied work. Students will also receive a zero (0) if they are caught cheating on an exam.

All questions or concerns about grades or class material may be addressed with the instructor.

Emergency Procedures. Southern Illinois University Carbondale is committed to providing a safe and health environment for study and work. Because some health and safety circumstances are beyond our control, we ask that you become familiar with the SIUC Emergency Response Plan and Building Emergency Response Team (BERT) program. Emergency response information is available on posters in buildings on campus, available on BERT's website at www.bert.siu.edu, Department of Safety's website www.dps.siu.edu (disaster drop down), and in Emergency Response Guideline pamphlet. Know how to respond to each type of emergency.

Instructors will provide guidance and direction to students in the classroom in the event of an emergency affecting your location. It is important that you follow these instructions and stay with your instructor during an evacuation or sheltering emergency. The Building Emergency Response Team will provide assistance to your instructor in evacuating the building or sheltering within the facility.
