Core Curriculum Learning Objectives:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to: (a) demonstrate knowledge of basic sociological concepts about social processes (e.g., socialization, deviance, social control, and stratification by class, gender, and race) and social institutions (e.g., the family, religion, and the criminal justice system); (b) summarize theoretical or explanatory arguments in sociology; (c) apply these arguments to contemporary events or personal experiences; and (d) display knowledge of cultural, class, religious, and other differences within and between societies.

Course Content and Requirements:

This course is designed to accomplish the above four objectives, and to help you understand how society is created, sustained, and changed. Ideally, you will also learn to see the interconnections between individuals and society, and to think logically and critically about the world around you. There will be three meetings each week, two lectures (Mon. & Wed.), plus one discussion section (Fri.). You are expected to attend all scheduled meetings (lectures & discussions), and you are expected to read all course materials.

Grading Criteria:

Your final course grade will be determined based on the following criteria:

Examination 1	12%
Examination 2	18%
Examination 3	19%
Final Examination	21%
Discussion Section	30%

Students who earn 90% or more of the points will earn an “A.”

Students who earn 80% to 89% of the points will earn a “B.”

Students who earn 70% to 79% of the points will earn a “C.”

Students who earn 62% to 69% of the points will earn a “D.”

Students who fail to earn at least 62% of the points will earn an “F.”

I do not believe in giving extra credit, so do not even bother to ask.

In the event that it becomes necessary to implement a “curved” grading system, the following percentages will be utilized:

Students in the top 15% of the class will earn an “A.”

The next 21% of the class will earn a “B.”

The next 28% of the class will earn a “C.”

The next 21% of the class will earn a “D.”

The bottom 15% of the class will earn an “F.”

Examinations:

The examinations will consist of multiple choice and true/false questions. The exams will NOT be cumulative, although the continued understanding of certain key concepts will be necessary throughout the semester. Exams MUST be taken on the scheduled day; there will be NO make-up exams (except for those students with an authorized absence). Additionally, students who fail an exam MUST meet with me to discuss their performance. Students who do not meet this requirement WILL BE dropped from the course.

Discussion Sections:

Discussion sections are an important part of this course and attendance is mandatory. Beyond simply attending, however, you are also expected to participate in discussions. Class participation includes reading the course materials (before class begins!) and asking questions or making comments. When relevant, students are encouraged to enrich class discussions by bringing in current events, accounts from personal experiences, or other appropriate material from outside the class. Additionally, students are required to attend ONE approved campus event during the semester. The days, times, and topics of such events (public talks, forums, or lectures) will be announced as they are scheduled. Finally, you must complete three (3) written assignments which will count as part of your discussion grade:

Assignment 1	2-3 pp. (due t.b.a.)
Assignment 2	2-3 pp. (due 9/17)
Assignment 3	5 pp. (due 11/19)

Assignments will be graded on both their content and their form, therefore you should incorporate applicable subject matter from the course AND your writing should be clear, coherent, logical, and free of grammatical mistakes. All assignments should be typed, double-spaced, and proofread thoroughly. Assignments will be turned in during discussion sections, but students also MUST submit an electronic copy to Turnitin.com. Late assignments will not be accepted, except in the case of a documented illness or emergency.

Note for History-Education Students:

Your work will be assessed as part of the accreditation review for the National Council for the Social Sciences. This course will explore and analyze a number of issues you will impart to your future high school students, including: how role, status, and social class impact interactions among individuals, groups, and institutions; the form, function, and evolution of institutions, their relationships, and how they influence people, events, and culture; how groups and institutions aim to meet individual needs and promote the common good, but create tensions between social conformity and expressions of individuality; how behavioral sciences can be applied to the examination of social problems.

Emergency Procedures:

Southern Illinois University Carbondale is committed to providing a safe and healthy environment for study and work. Because some health and safety circumstances are beyond our control, we ask that you become familiar with the SIUC Emergency Response Plan and Building Emergency Response Team (BERT) program. Emergency response information is available on posters in buildings on campus and is available on the BERT website at www.siu.edu/emergency/bert.html, Department of Public Safety's website www.dps.siu.edu/ (disaster drop down) and in the Emergency Response Guidelines pamphlet. Know how to respond to each type of emergency.

Instructors will provide guidance and direction to students in the classroom in the event of an emergency affecting your location. It is important that you follow these instructions and stay with your instructor during an evacuation or sheltering emergency. The Building Emergency Response Team will provide assistance to your instructor in evacuating the building or sheltering within the facility.

Americans with Disabilities (ADA) Statement:

Persons with disabilities requiring special accommodations to meet the expectations of this course are encouraged to bring this to the attention of your TA as soon as possible. Written documentation of the disability should be submitted during the first week of the semester along with a request for special accommodations. Contact the SIU Disability Support Services (DSS) to facilitate requests:

Acknowledging Differences:

During the semester students will have the opportunity to share thoughts, opinions, and beliefs about their life experiences. The differences in these perspectives that each student brings to the discussion will add to the richness of this course. Students should communicate in ways that acknowledge and respect such differences. While it is natural and expected that many of us will have differing opinions, we must always respect our fellow students in the class and the opinions they hold. I expect and encourage students to be critical of each other's ideas, but it is UNACCEPTABLE to be dismissive of and/or combative with other students in the class.

Classroom Decorum:

I have an obligation to maintain a classroom environment that allows each student to learn to the best of his or her capabilities. While I encourage students to ask questions and make comments in class, I will not tolerate or permit behavior that is disruptive, distracting, or demeaning. Actions that violate these norms will be treated seriously— after one warning you will be asked to leave. Also, if your cell phone must be on for medical, child care, or other reasons, please set it to silent or vibrate.

Ethical Conduct:

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale is dedicated not only to learning, research, and the advancement of knowledge, but also to the development of ethically sensitive and responsible persons. The university seeks to achieve these goals through sound educational programs and policies governing individual conduct that encourage independence and maturity. By accepting membership in this university, an individual joins a community characterized by free expression, free inquiry, honesty, respect for others, and participation in constructive change. All rights and responsibilities exercised within this academic environment shall be compatible with these principles. An act of academic dishonesty is a breach of the student conduct code. Dishonesty includes: 1. Plagiarism, representing the work of another as one's own work; 2. Preparing work for another that is to be used as that person's own work; 3. Cheating by any method or means; 4. Knowingly and willfully falsifying or manufacturing scientific or educational data and representing the same to be the result of scientific or scholarly experiment or research; 5. Knowingly furnishing false information to a university official relative to academic matters; 6. Soliciting, aiding, abetting, concealing, or attempting conduct in violation of this code. If you are in doubt or have questions regarding behavior that may constitute academic dishonesty, please consult with me or refer to the SIU Handbook. <http://www.siu.edu/~policies/policies/conduct.html>
