

ANTH 485: GIS in Anthropology

(Special Topics in Anthropology)

Spring 2025

MW 1:00-2:15

Instructor: Erica Moses

This course is an introduction to anthropological applications of Geographic Information Systems. We will cover essential GIS concepts and cartographic principles while exploring case studies related to archaeology as well as sociocultural, linguistic, and/or biological anthropology.

Basic computer literacy is expected, but prior experience with GIS is not required.
