Students enrolled in the MA program may take up to 6 hours of independent study house. Ph.D. students may take up to 8. Students must have written permission from instructors in order to register for independent hours. Student and instructor should meet prior to or at the beginning of the semester, and design a plan of study (to be described below). Student should then give this form to the director of graduate studies so (s)he may execute an override in the registration system (banner). Only then will the system allow the student to register for hours online. Questions about this procedure should be directed to the director of graduate studies.
